

to look at all that and tell me what to do. Well, you learn. I'm not going to listen to anybody at breakfast anymore either. (Laughter) But the point is that I am getting ready to file for the term that's coming up and I am going to abide by the expenditure limitation. I just thought it might be helpful, when Common Cause sent out their questionnaire, this is when we were sort of in this state of flux trying to figure out what all of this meant. I thought it might help, be helpful this morning and I won't read the whole thing, I do have the form that you sign when you file. It's when you file that you sign the form. You don't sign it ahead of time. And here's what it says: I hereby declare I will abide by the spending limits as identified herein for the office for which I have filed for nomination or election to office. I further declare that I will personally act as the guarantor for the lawful use of any public funds I or my candidate committee may receive from the Campaign Finance Limitation Fund and I agree to be held personally liable to the state of Nebraska for the repayment of any such funds which are unlawfully spent or are otherwise required by law to be repaid to the state of Nebraska. The rest of it goes on explaining that public funds would be available only if one or more of the opponents files the affidavit not to abide by the expenditures. So it isn't simple. It really is not a simple equation. And for that reason, that's why I said I was undecided about exactly how we were going to handle it. I just wanted to clarify that this morning because I do intend, so that will make it twenty-two, Chris, I do intend to sign this that I will abide by the expenditure limitations. Thank you.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator. Seeing no further lights. Senator Beutler, to close.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Just two things. One, one more thank you to you all for making the effort to make this work. And I think you're going to see an exciting result. And secondly, I would ask unanimous consent to pass over the bill.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Is there any objection? Seeing none, we pass over LB 548. LB 750.

CLERK: Madam President, LB 750, a bill introduced by Senator Landis, Schimek, and Preister. (Read title.) The bill was introduced on January 19 of last year. At that time it was referred to the Judiciary Committee. Judiciary Committee
